Historic luxury at Charmouth near Lyme Regis and Dorset Jurassic Heritage Coast

Farmhouse dining

Spa pool

Champernhayes is set on a gentle southern slope of a West Dorset hillside, with views to the sea at Charmouth in the distance.

Just over the hill lies the charming historic port of Lyme Regis. Designated an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty within the UK's only natural World Heritage Site, this coastline is renowned for its fascinating geology and fossils – known locally as the 'Jurassic Coastline'.

The single storey cottages at Champernhayes, Blackbird (sleeps 6), Lark and Owl (sleep 4), and Swallow (sleeps 2) have been created from the conversion of the original farmhouse buildings, dating from 1482. These cottages, grouped around a central courtyard, have also been awarded 4 Star Gold by VisitEngland. The country-style kitchens are open plan, with a dining area, and are comprehensively equipped.

Most bedrooms have en suite bathrooms, and you will find beds made with towels provided. Relax in your very own country retreat complete with WiFi internet access, digital television and DVD player together with a selection of movies.

The stunning and spacious 16th century thatched Barn (sleeps 10) and 15th century Farmhouse (sleeps 8), with glorious views across the Dorset countryside to the sea at Charmouth, are perfect for larger groups. Come and celebrate your special occasion here at Champernhayes.

Each cottage has its own private garden complete with patio, hardwood garden furniture and gas barbecue, and the heated indoor swim spa and hot tub is available throughout the year. Excellent walks are literally on your doorstep along with the unspoilt Dorset/East Devon coastline.
