Fal River Cottage is the perfect dog-friendly getaway. This small, traditional, two-bedroomed cottage has stunning views, and has been popular with couples and small families since its renovation in spring 2019.

Being just two miles from Truro means you are ideally located to explore the whole of Cornwall due to the train and road connections. However, you may not want to go far at all ...

From the cottage, you have some fantastic walks on your doorstep – both across country and along the river. There is also a ferry offering scenic river trips to Trelissick Gardens (National Trust), St. Mawes and Falmouth.

Loe beach (15 min drive) offers you canoe, sailing or paddle board hire if you want to be more active on the river.

However, if you don't want to be active at all, the cottage offers three wonderful outside seating areas which all benefit from the gorgeous river views.

Whatever you do in the daytime, you're sure to enjoy evenings sampling the lovely food, beer and wine at the popular (and dog-friendly) 'Heron Inn', just three doors away.

Downstairs, the cottage consists of a comfortable lounge with a log burner and a modern kitchen/diner. The upstairs features a light and airy double bedroom with river views, as well as a small single bedroom (with access to the rear garden). There's also a traditional 'Jack n' Jill' bathroom connecting directly with both bedrooms.

Please note: The property is not suitable for those that cannot manage steep steps.
