Stride out over 22 acres past the ha-ha, the roses and the lovingly tended, walled, vegetable garden.

Secluded seating in the extensive gardens lends itself to contemplation or reading a good book. How about archery, falconry, an owl prowl or a Victorian carriage ride across the Somerset Levels ... or take to the air in a hot air balloon and enjoy the stunning scenery? The possibilities are endless in this green oasis, and there's plenty for children to enjoy on site and locally.

Home to one family for 400 years, Park House overflows with portraits and delicious antiques. Propped against the 250 year old Clementi piano is a Chinese bowl used to bath baby en route home from India. The grand old drawing room has cosy chaises longues, shiny brasses and a woodburner. In the library artefacts from grandfather's ship adorn the fireplace and there's seating for 22 around two large tables. The cosy morning room offers more seating and an extra TV and games console. The farmhouse-style kitchen is superbly equipped, bathrooms are big ('Great Tom' has a Victorian roll top bath). Croquet, badminton and table tennis are available.

Park House, which has 6 luxurious bedrooms, is available on its own or combined with Park Cottage. Park House has a dining room which will seat 22 plus, comfortable seating areas and a well-equipped kitchen. Park Cottage has three extra bedrooms including a ground floor bedroom and wet room which has the National Accessibility Awards M1 & M2.

The light, spacious living area opens out onto a private garden, which is wheelchair friendly. There is decking and a barbecue. The level pathway to Park House provides access for a wheelchair and the ground floor of Park House is accessible although the bedrooms are on the first floor. The family dog is also made very welcome at Cossington Park!

An exciting range of outdoor and indoor activities are available either on or off site.

Located in the pretty village of Cossington, on the edge of the Polden Hills, between Glastonbury and Bridgwater, 5 kms from M5 motorway, close to Wells and Cheddar.
